Enjoy shade and stream exploring on this relatively easy walk from Balibar, on the road to Aileu. Half the walk is through attractive bush, with pineapples growing, before descending to a stream. Follow this as far as you can and return the same way. Even at the end of the dry season you're guaranteed to get wet shoes, and it can be slippery underfoot, so take care.

Difficulty rationale – Physically easy, with just one small climb, but walking around a stream isn't for everyone, with slippery rocks and you will definitely get your shoes wet. Even at the end of the dry season there can be leeches. Sun lotion on your legs appears to put them off...
